To Keep Lemons.

An lemon is a thing that vary so much in price at different times of the year, they may be purchased when cheap and kept for months, if a little care is taken. Put a layer of fine, dry sand about an inch deep in an earthenware vessel. Place a row of lemons on this, with the stalk ends downward, and be very careful that the lemons do not touch. Cover them with another layer of sand about three inches deep, and on this layer place another lot of lemons; and so on until the jar is full. Store in a cool, dry place.

Parson's Soft Job.

"There is a prevalent idea among the criminal classes that the clergy have nothing whatever to do." The authority for this statement is the archdeacon of London, who has three large prisons in his archdeaconry. An old woman once said to a jail chaplain: "I wish you could find a job for my old man. He is not up to much, and cannot do anything, but he wants a soft job like yours!"—London Globe.

Character Told by the Chin.

The shape of the chin is of considerable importance in reading character. A chin smooth and round denotes a childlike disposition and a yielding will. The oval chin is an indication of an artistic, sensitive nature, with some talent along those lines, while the angular chin denotes the scientific, practical nature. The protruding chin always means combativeness, determination and power, and the receding chin denotes the weak will, and the straight chin also denotes weakness.

Pure Gold.

Pure gold is considered as divisible in respect to purity into 24 parts, each called a carat, (or karat), an old term for the twenty-fourth of an ounce. Troy. Hence the phrase 18 carat fine means that 18 twenty-fourths is pure gold, and the remainder an alloy material. Ordinary gold chains and jewelry are usually only 14 carat fine, but wedding rings are 22 carats fine.

Believe Tobacco Could Be Raised. Experienced men believe that in the southwestern states, and perhaps elsewhere in America, Turkish tobacco can be raised successfully, and it is thought that it might be worth while to encourage the industry. While suitable soil and climate naturally are the prime requisites, a great deal depends upon a thorough knowledge of the proper methods of planting, curing and handling the tobacco.

Relics of Past Wars.

Two ancient helmets have for some time been suspended in the parish church at Eves, Suffolk, England, and one of them has lately been pronounced a peaked helmet (closed helmet), probably of Italian work and dating from about 1510. Its value is about £210. The other helmet is a Spanish morion (open helmet), dating from about the time of the Spanish Armada (1588).

Back at Her.

A dear little girl visiting at my aunt's home kept every one amused by her original remarks. One day she was telling how she and her sister played together. "Oh, yes," she said, "we quarrel sometimes. Once sister told me I made her sick and then I told her she didn't give me much of an appetite."—Chicago Tribune.

A Philosophic Chinese.

Recalling the horrors of the Civil war, General Sikes once said in a Memorial day address:

"Those horrors were so grisly and so numerous that we became, in a certain sad sense, hardened to them, not really hardened, but so it seemed. Our mood seemed almost like the Chinaman's."

"A Chinaman, you know, was employed as a cook in Los Angeles at the time when the Yellow river flood carried off its thousands. The man's master hurried to tell him of the calamity, thinking it would overwhelm him; but the cook's only comment was the calm and practical one: "Planteed Chinamen left."

One of His Attractions. A cynical young woman once said to me that she found cats more interesting than gentlemen, because you could always tell what a gentleman would do in a given situation, whereas you could never tell, in any situation, what a cat would do. Cats may or may not be the proper sport of cynical young women, but to the average busy creature the gentleman is wholly delightful in that he is wholly predictable.—Atlantic Monthly.

Rational Love.

"The rational rather than the romantic view of marriage is the one most in favor with the young people of the twentieth century," said Dr. H. Lucas Wentworth, the well-known eugenics expert in an address in Cleveland.

"The rational view will make for happier marriages. And this rational view is beautifully illustrated in two questions—a little dialogue—running thus:

"Will you always love me?"

"Will you always be lovable?"

Bunched Them.

During a Catholic convention O'Sullivan got a job as a taxi driver. One day at the hotel he got a party of four that wanted to go to four different churches immediately. One wanted to go to St. Joseph's another to St. Paul's, another to St. Peter's, and the other to St. Mary's. O'Sullivan drove them to all Saints' church.

Kicking Back.

Hon. Alex. Appleby, editor of the Leesville (Colo.) Light, is tired of being criticized. "Many people kick because the papers never tell the truth," he says. "Let the man or woman in Leesville who wants us to tell the truth about him or her stand up and we'll try to be accommodated."

Relics of Wagner Tolen.

Relics of Wagner, the great composer, were stolen from the family home, Villa Wahnfried, at Bayreuth, Germany, on a recent night. The most valuable of the relics were taken, including the composer's watch, set with diamonds.

Exception to the Rule.

Countryman (at the National Gallery)—"Why, then's the very same picture I saw here the day before yesterday!" Attendant (dryly)—"Quite likely." Countryman—"Then that clerk at the hotel is an awful liar. He told me that the pictures were changed daily in all the leading picture houses."

Feared to Lose Sawdust.

One day small Oscar was playing with a doll and some of the sawdust leaked out from the floor. Soon after Oscar's mother called him to her to trim his finger nails and Oscar said: "Don't trim so short, for all the sawdust will come out."

When the Eyes Are Gray.

Among the gray eyed there are few who retain any spiritual emotions. People with gray eyes are superficial, frivolous, given to embrace false idols, running down blind alleys, following false prophets, thoughtless, inconsiderate, wanting in sympathy, neurotic, unstable, not firm and deliberate, but rash and impetuous.

Person's Laugh Tells Much.

The manner of laughing is a reliable indication of a person's depth of thought and self-control. For instance, the chronic giggler usually is a person of shallow thought, while the quiet person, who seldom laughs and only rarely smiles, has a great intensity of feeling and thoughtfulness.

Hint to Girls.

Girls, listen to this: It is nice to go riding in a motor car with a good looking young man whom your parents believe to be a perfect gentleman, but don't you forget that electric headlights are not a sufficient substitute for a chaperon.—Galveston News.

New Lock.

Two tramps, arrested for vagrancy, were set free by G. Porter, a constable, because the lock on the town jail had become so rusty that he couldn't open it. Some of these fine days Porter will have a murder case, then the town will be compelled to buy a brand new lock.—Youngstown Telegram.

Lost Horsepower.

According to a conservative estimate, in an ocean steamer of 100 feet beam, 950 feet length, and let us say, 60,000 horsepower, no less than 20 per cent. of the horsepower, or about 12,000, would be consumed in overcoming head-wind resistance when the ship was steaming at 15 knots against a 65-mile gale.

Bill of Rights

The bill of rights is a declaration of fundamental principles deemed basic to the Constitution itself and borrowed from the English bill of rights of 1689. When the Constitution of the United States was framed and submitted to the people it did not have a bill of rights and it was so sorely criticized on this account that its friends promised to incorporate or add such a declaration, and the first ten amendments to the Constitution, made after the main instrument was adopted, were in fulfillment of this promise. All the State Constitutions now have bills of rights, practically identical with one another.

Evidently Not.

The fellow who said, "
